DREADFUL HAY FEVER RAVAGES.

More Prevalent in the United States Than Other Countries.

In an exhaustive paper on hay fever read at a meeting of the Society of the Alumni of Bellevue Hospital Dr. W. W. Carter said that the disease, which will be making its annual visitation soon, was not recognized 100 years ago. Moreover he said this annoying complaint is more prevalent in the United States than in any other country, and it has increased to a remarkable extent in the last fifty years. These are some of the striking features of the paper.

"Hay fever is an affection of comparatively recent date: "there is no positive evidence that it was recognized prior to 1819 when Bostock read before the Royal Medico-Chirurgical Society of London a paper entitled A Periodic Affection of the Eyes and Chest, in which he described his own affliction and attributed it to the sunshine and heat in summer.

"The remarkable increase of this malady during the past half century in this country at once arrests our attention and we seek an explanation. There are within our boundaries in the neighborhood of 100,000 hay fever subjects and this number is being rapidly augmented. Hay fever, like other reflex neuroses, is pre-eminently an affection of civilized man, and is most common in our large cities where it is increased with the increased demands for nerve energy.

"On the other hand, the farmer who comes in contact with more pollen than any one else is practically never affected. In this case the immunity may have been acquired by constant with the exciting cause of the disease; but what is more likely, it comes as a compensation for his simple habits of life.

Heredity plays a most important part in this affection and is recognized by various writers in from 40 to 50 per cent of their cases. In my own practice in fully 75 per cent of cases more than one member of the family is affected. In one New York family where the father and two uncles are affected five out of seven children have hay fever and two of these have also asthma.

In regard to the use of drugs with a view to curing the affection. I must say that my own expenses have been most unsatisfactory."

Palliative Measures—If the patient is unable to go to a hay fever immune district he should avoid excitement and hurry. Exercise increases the number of respirations consequently the amount of pollen inhaled. Then, too, the perspiration is a solvent for the pollen and in the susceptible subject cause the face to itch and burn. Bright sunlight and dust aggravate the symptoms.

The skin, bowels and kidneys should be kept active and the diet must be frugal. Well-known reflex excitants, such as shell fish and strawberries should be avoided and meat should be taken only sparingly.—New York Times.

The Shadow we Cast

The shadows of life too often fall across the pathway of the travelers of life's highway. Many times there is a shadow when there should be sunshine. What think ye? Have you not seen it? A little thoughtfulness would have brought sunshine, when the over more sunshine, less shadow. Life will run happier through its ways and life will to many be worth living. The following along this line is also suggestive.

In this great world of sunshine and shadows we are conundrum us and receiving shadows stantly casting shadows on those from them in return.

There is no pathway of life which is not sometimes in the shade, and there is no one who walks over the paths it matters not which way they tried, who does not, now and then, cast his shadow with the rest. How often do we, by a mere thoughtless word or careless act, cast a shadow on some heart which is longing for sunshine? How often does the husband, by a cold greeting cast a gloom over the happy trusting face of his wife who, it may be, has waited anxiously for the sound of his footsteps to give him a joyous welcome to his home. How often has the parent, by a harsh reproof, chilled the overflowing.

ELECTRIC TIMEPIECE RUNS WITHOUT TICKING

Klug Inspects Clock warranted
To Run 1,000 Days In Any Position.

A clock which is absolutely silent, so that not the slightest ticking is heard, that is guaranteed to go for 1,000 days without requiring the slightest human attention, and that will keep correct time in any position—even upside down—such is the Eureka electric clock, which was submitted for the inspection of the King by Mr. Sigismund Kutzow, Chairman of the Eureka Clock Company, says the London News.

The simplicity and science of the mechanism of the invention are remarkable.

This clock is an entirely new departure. It is as unlike the old timepiece, with the weights wheels, and pendulum as can possibly be imagined.

Its dial hands are moved by direct impulse from the electric current. Hitherto attempts at making a self-winding clock have failed owing to the complexity of the mechanism.

There is, however, practically no mechanism in the ordinary sense of the word in the Eureka clock; such works as it has run on ball bearings large enough for a bicycle, so that the friction is almost nil.

The manufacture of this clock is destined to revive the clock-making industry which has been taken from England by German Swiss and American competitors.

Formerly England was famous for her clock-making and many an old dial to-day still bears the name of some tome and clock-maker well known in their time throughout the world.

Now, however, cheap American and Continental timepieces have taken the place of their native product. The city Road factory of the Eureka Clock Company will produce an essentially British article, the work of British craftsmen.

It is further interesting to note that ladies from orphanages are being employed and instructed in the newly revived science of clock-making.

Prosperity is predicted on all sides. If it comes, it will take the income tax all the more productive.

The taint of Mr. Rockefeller's money may be very deep, but it has no terror for us.

Our Senators and Representatives will now get a whack at the chataqua platform and the rafters will rattle with their eloquence.

The Waco Texas Times-Herald is lambasting the Denver platform. The Times-Herald should strengthen its ability to determine when a thing is dead.

If the new religion which it is to be promulgated by Dr. Elliott succeeds in capturing all those who do not now possess any character of religion, it will not only take in all the outsiders, but a good many people who belong to some church.

The Hartford Herald seems to lay great store to the fact that we stated last week that the Republican candidates in addition to being honorable and competent were also good campaigners and had experience in that line. Does the Herald mean to insinuate that the fact that a candidate is a great campaigner, as was its thrice candidate for President, is to be taken as a mark of demerit against him?

After several years of conflict it now seems that the American Society of Equity, Green River District and Home Warehouse people are to work in harmony. This is as it should be. There is no reason whatever for conflict or struggle between tobacco growers. Their interests are identical and any conflict between organizations representing these interests can only result in benefit to the trusts, and he who fosters such conflict is guilty of treason to the interests of his fellow farmers.

We are glad to be able to announce that the fratricidal war among the tobacco growers in the Burley district has come to an end and peace and harmony once more prevail and the tobacco trust is left without a peg upon which to hang its hat. For this happy solution, which is in the interest of the farmers, all honor is due Hon. J. Campbell Centrill, who first called attention to the injustice of the new pooling pledge to the members of the American Society of Equity who live in that district, and who by persistent effort has compelled the Burley society to recognize the American Society of Equity, notwithstanding he brought down upon his head unjust criticism from some of the people who have been trusted with leadership in the Burley Society. These people should now be relegated to the rear where they properly belong.

In this issue of the Republican we give complete the new tariff bill, with the story of its passage. It does not suit us in every particular, but we are willing to give it a fair trial. The mere fact that the question is to remain settled for several years will of itself tend to produce industrial activity and an era of prosperity in the country. A number of the schedules are unfair to the farmers, especially is this true of hides which were placed upon the free list.

without any compensation for this loss by cheaper shoes and other products of leather. It is now admitted that there will be no perceptible reduction in the price of boots and shoes, but it is given out that the consumer should get a better grade under the new law. Where so many conflicting interests were to be compromised it is impossible to please everyone and we accept our disappointment as gracefully as possible, trusting that the mistakes made this time will be rectified in the near future.

This talk of the American Society of Equity or any farmer's organization backing this candidate or that candidate for office should be discouraged with a firm hand by the organization. No farmer's organization can afford to enter politics in the advocacy of the election of any candidate, of any party for any office. The moment such organization takes a position of this kind it weakens its strength and its downfall is sure. As we have often said, the only way for a farmers organization to maintain its integrity and benefit its members is to attend strictly to its own business and give politics and "isms" a wide birth. We do not mean to be understood that farmers should not make their votes count when their interests are menaced by members of the Legislature or Congress, but this should be done in the party primary and in the general election, if necessary, by individual voting and not by bringing the matter into the organization proper.

Mr. Stewart's success as a vocal music teacher has been very great and we hope those in need of an experienced teacher may select Mr. Stewart.

SOCIETY OF EQUITY WINS GREAT FIGHT

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 10.—The American Society of Equity won a complete victory in the conference with the Burley Tobacco Society officials to-day.

The Executive Board of the Burley Tobacco Society, with Charles M. Hanen, of Shelby county; M. C. Rankin, State Commissioner of Agriculture, and Dr. Crecelius, of Falmouth, went into conference with C. O. Drayton, National President of the American Society of Equity, and Hon. J. Campbell Centrill, State President of the American Society of Equity, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Burley Society offices to consider an adjustment of the differences which have existed between the Burley Society and the American Society of Equity.

The conference lasted until 4 o'clock and countless rumors were afloat in the streets as to the outcome of this important meeting of the heads of the two factions. As soon as the conference adjourned it was learned that the Burley Society had agreed to make the following proposition to the American Society of Equity to pay $10,000 to the American Society of Equity, to be divided equally between the national union and the State unions, and that $5,000 of this sum is to be paid October 1 if the pool is a success, and $5,000 at the sale of the 1909 crop, all of which sum is to be chargeable to the 1909 crop.

Second—in all counties where there are local unions of the American Society of Equity to pay to such union $1 for every hogshead of tobacco pooled in that county.

Third—to accept a by-law fixing a maximum price for prizing all pooled tobacco.

Fourth—to adopt a by-law providing that all money coming into the hands of the central office at Winchester from the sale of tobacco shall be paid to the county to which it belongs within ten days after it is received.

After the propositions were submitted Messrs. Drayton and Centrill retired to consider it, and in half an hour came back slapping several members of the board on the back, and shaking hands all the way around joyously announced that "The war is over."

However, as the action of Mr. Drayton will have to be ratified by the convention of the National District of the American Society of Equity which is to be held at Indianapolis, August 16, and Mr. Centrill's action by the State Convention of the American Society of Equity, at Bowling Green, August 19, considerable interest is felt here by tobacco people as to the final action of these two bodies.

One of the members of the Burley Committee said to Drayton that "We will expect you to put this through at Indianapolis," and he said, "I shall recommend it to the national union, and do all I can to have it put through."

Congressman Centrill, when asked if the war was really over said: "I don't know, but hope so," and stated that he would not be interviewed. He stated to members of the Burley Tobacco Society Committee that if the Society of Equity did not accept this proposition he would withdraw from them and throw his influence with the Burley Tobacco Society, and offered to take the stump in behalf of the Burley Tobacco Society pool.

Mrs. Maddox Dead.

Mrs. Maddox, wife of Thomas Maddox, of near Taylor Mines, died Sunday night of diseases incident to old age. After funeral services conducted by Rev. A. B. Gardner at the Baptist church, Beaver Dam, at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, her remains were interred in the Beaver Dam church burying grounds.

The deceased, who was in her eightieth year, had been a member of the Baptist church since 1837. She was united in marriage to Mr. Maddox in the year 1840. To this union were born several children. There was only a few days difference in the age of the deceased and her surviving husband, who has the sympathy of all in the loss of his aged companion.

To Make The Home Beautiful

Does not always require the expenditure of a large sum of money. This depends largely upon judgment taste, economy and skill. Nothing adds more to the appearance of the home than good Paint, properly applied. Then it protects and preserves the property—that is if you buy the right kind. The best is the cheapest. Masury's is excelled by none. Mrs. Gunther Dead.

Mrs. Mary Gunther, wife of Mr. Louis Gunther and one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the town or county, died at her residence in Hartford shortly after noon Tuesday. Her death was due to the infirmities of old age, but was rather sudden, although she had been ill for many months. Afflicted for years and worn with age, it just seemed that the frail body gave way and her spirit took its flight to the One who gave it.

Mrs. Gunther was 77 years old at the time of her death. She was a native of Germany, State of Baden, on the Rhine. She came to this country when a young woman and later was married to Mr. Gunther, who is also a native German. She was the mother of several children, but only two are left—Misses Henrietta and Margaret. These, with her husband, are her only immediate survivors. Funeral services were conducted at the residence at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon after which her remains were buried in Oakwood cemetery.

Ohio County High School.

A noted American educator recently said: The people of this country will have just as good schools as they demand, and just as poor schools as they will put up with. The people of Kentucky have realized this fact and as a result are demanding better schools and more efficient teachers. A great educational wave has swept over the State and has left in its wake, not only a burning desire, but a firm determination to have better schools. Think of the great State of Kentucky once standing forty-second in point of education among her sister States. Is it any wonder that a whirlwind campaign for better schools is sweeping over every section of the State?

When the legislature made the provision in its statute books whereby county high schools could be established in every county, a great step toward advancement was made. This year we present to the people of Ohio county a first-class high school equal to the best high school in towns of the same population, of any other State in the Union. We offer you a course that any university will accept without question, and one that will train any boy or girl for the active affairs of life. When school opens on August 30th a new era will be marked in the history of Ohio county's education. Your boy or girl can not afford to neglect this splendid opportunity, and upon the parents shoulders rest the educational responsibilities. Let every boy and girl of high school age enter at the earliest possible moment. Our catalogue explains fully, the courses, expenses, etc. Board can be secured in private families for $2.50 to $3.00. Tuition free in the High School to Ohio county pupils holding common school diploma. Those who do not hold diplomas will be admitted by examination. High School tuition to non-residents of the county $8 per nine weeks. For full information address Geo. E. Bailey, Hartford, Ky.

A Letter of Appreciation.

I desire to extend my heartfelt thanks to the people of Beaver Dam and adjoining community for their untiring interest in my little daughter during her illness of more than 50 days to say nothing about the substantial aid and beautiful flowers and I would not forget the skillful and untiring interest taken by Dr. Duff who deprived himself of pleasure as well as business to administer day and night at her bedside and last but not least we would mention the fact that many earnest prayers went up day and night from pulpit and home while anxious friends lingered hand about the yard to await results until finally a gleam of light sprang up in the home and the announcement went out "Ellen is better" all praise to God and thanks to the people.

A HANDSOME PRIZE LIST

Thirty Thousand Dollars Offered in Prizes for Week of September 13th to 18th.

Details of Some of the Chief Attractions to Be Presented This Year.

Thirty thousand dollars makes a very handsome prize list. This amount will be offered at the Seventh annual Kentucky State Fair, which is scheduled for the week of September 13th to 18th, inclusive. The marvelous piece of work accomplished in the incomparably short time of three months last season, in which the largest, most useful and most beautiful show pavilion in the world, and a permanent grand stand of steel and concrete construction were erected, a model half mile race track was built, and some forty or more buildings of a more temporary nature, for the housing of all livestock, agricultural, horticultural exhibits, etc., were completed, is fresh in the minds of those who witnessed last year's exhibition. With the addition of beautiful road ways, flower beds and installation of electric lights in the pavilion for the use of horse show and hippodrome performances in the evening, the grounds will present a grander and more brilliant spectacle this year. In nearly every department, the number of classes have been increased and more liberal prizes are offered. This is especially true in the beef, cattle and poultry departments, in each of which the total money offered is probably thirty per cent larger than last year.

The special prizes are much more attractive and represent a greater value than ever before. The honor and prestige of winning many of these trophies is infinitely greater than the intrinsic value of the prize itself. The specials listed include the "Highland Home" cup, which is donated by Gay Bros. of Pisgah, Ky., for the best and finest saddle bred foal of 1909; the American saddle horse breeders' association trophy for registered stallion or mare three years old or under; the Montgomery chief special of $125 offered by Ball Bros., Versailles, Ky., for the finest and best stallion, mare or gelding any age by Montgomery Chief; the $1,000 Kentucky farmer's saddle horse futurity for saddle bred foals of 1909, the only saddle horse futurity in existence, which closed April 1st with 225 nominations; the commissioner of agriculture saddle horse special, value at $200 for the best five gaited saddle stallion, mare or gelding three years old or over; a handsome cup for the champion roadster, given by Mr. Basil Doerhofer of Louisville; the Dr. McChord cup for the best herd of jack stock offered by Mr. W. P. Hayes of Bloomfield, Ky.; the grand silver trophy offered by the American Berkshire Swine Association for best young herd of Berkshires exhibited by Kentucky breeder, which is the coveted honor of the show among Berkshire breeders in every state; an aggregate sum of nearly $400 given by Commissioner Rankin for all the leading standard varieties of poultry; a silver cup donated by Mr. F. H. Behring for best exhibit of Kentucky bred poultry; specials by the Southdown, Hampshire and Oxford Sheep Record Association for exhibits of pure-bred sheep they respectively champion; and the American Angora Goat Breeders' Association special for the best flock of registered Angora kids.

In the cattle departments the money consideration for specials is the greatest and the classification most extensive. The American Shorthorn Breeders' Association and the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' Association have each donated $750 for pure bred cattle of these respective breeds, one-half to be given in open competition and one-half to cattle owned by Kentucky exhibitors. These offers were made on condition that the State Fair management would set apart $1,000 in premiums for each of these breeds, which was done, thereby making a total of $1,750 for each breed. This is the largest amount ever offered for either Shorthorns or Herefords at any state fair or exposition south of the Ohio river, and perhaps equals the aggregate prize money at any exhibition in America this year with the exception of the national breed shows. The Polled Durham Association of America renews its offer of $100 in special prizes for Polled Durhams. The American Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association, for the first time in several years, comes forward with a very liberal offer of $200 in specials for its breed. As a very gratifying innovation in the prize list, the Dairy Cattle Department contains some valuable specials. Through the generous liberality of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, the State Fair management has been enabled to double the amount of prize money for this dairy breed and to place its classification almost on a par with the Jersey, which has been the favorite dair-breed in the south ever since its importation to this country, and the Kentucky Jersey cattle club will give a cup valued at $50.00 for the best Jersey herd of one bull and four heifers under one year old, bred by a Kentucky exhibitor. There are also numerous specials offered by Hon. M. C. Rankin, commissioner of agricultural departments, the most prominent of which are for county exhibits, $150,000 being offered for the best and largest display of farm, garden and orchard products. This has been a very interesting and educational feature at many of the leading state fairs for a number of years and will undoubtedly prove a success and boon to agricultural interest of Kentucky.

Superintendents of Departments at the Kentucky State Fair.

As usual most experienced and capable superintendents of departments have been appointed. R. H. Lillard, of Lawrenceburg, has for the third time been chosen superintendent of the horse department, and William Simmons, of Shepherdsville, will again be in charge of the mule exhibit. W. R. Moorman, Jr., of Glendale, is superintendent of beef cattle and Edgar Vaughn, of Shelbyville, will for the eighth consecutive year be superintendent in the dairy cattle department. Other superintendents reappointed are Colonel H. L. Iglesias of Morganfield, swine department; W. B. Middleton of Shelbyville, sheep and goats; John H. Good, of Louisville, poultry and pigeons; H. C. Lovelace of Boston, field seed and grain; H. M. Froman, of Ghent, tobacco; Miss Evelyn Porter, of Louisville, woman's department; G. P. Rogers, of Smithland, farm implements and machinery; Prof. J. J. Hooper, of Lexington, students' judging contest, and H. L. Smyser of Lyndon, speed department. Chas. Sholtz, Jr., of Louisville, is superintendent of vegetables and melons; Henry S. Adams, Eminence, of Horticulture; W. E. Bibb, North Pleasureville, of plants and flowers, and Lucien Beckner, Winchester, of minerals and forestry. The assistant superintendents have also been named: for poultry and pigeons, W. B. Buford, of Nichlausville, and Robert H. Young, of Louisville; for vegetables and melons, J. A. Peake, Livia; for field seed and grain, Geo. D. Karsner, of Lexington; for horticulture, M. F. Johnson, of Buechel; for woman's department, Miss Eva McGrew, of Bayou, and Miss Alice Porter, of Louisville.

Heads of Departments of the Kentucky State Fair.

There are eighteen exhibit departments, which have been placed under the head of the various members of the state board of agriculture as follows: M. C. Rankin, of Frankfort, poultry and pigeons, plants and flowers, and student's judging contest; Prof. A. Seovald of Lexington, beef cattle, dairy cattle and collie dogs; G. N. McGrew, of Bayou, woman's department, farm implements and machinery, manufactured products; H. M. Beard, of Hardinsburg, sheep and goats and vegetables and melons; Guthrie M. Wilson, Bradfostown, horses, mules and jack stock, speed department; Caldwell Norton, Louisville, swine; Desha Breckenridge, Lexington, education and art; William Addams, Cynthiana, field seed and grain and tobacco; Fred R. Blackburn, Stanton, horticulture, forestry and minerals.

Kentucky State Fair Races.

Horse racing will be a greater attraction than ever at the State Fair this year. At last year's fair it was demonstrated that a successful harness race meeting could be held on these grounds. The popularity of the sport was never more pronounced. Unusually fast time was made on the new half-mile track which has come to be regarded as one of the best half-mile courses in America. At the meeting last year the grand stand and the grounds adjacent to it were thronged by a surging mass of humanity every afternoon eager to see every heat in every race, and not until the summary of the last race was hung up did the interest cease or enthusiasm dwindle.

The Kentuckians by nature has a fondness for horse racing. An opportunity for seeing his favorite sport will not be denied him at this year's fair.

The early closing events show the largest list of entries ever recorded at the State Fair. These events are known as the Louisville Retail Merchants Association stake for 2:21 pacers, the Louisville Commercial Club stake for 2:20 trotters, and the Kentucky Brewers Association stake for 2:20 trotters. In addition to the stake races, there will be six purse and four gentlemen's road races. Purse entries close Sept. 6th. Entries for the cup race at twelve o'clock noon, the day before the race. The stake races will be on the three in five heat plan and the purse races on the two in three heat plan. There will also be two running races each day. This is destined to become one of the most popular training tracks in the country. This meeting fits into a very convenient circuit by following the Indiana State Fair and proceeding the Tennessee State Fair which is the initial meeting of the southern circuit of fairs and trotting meetings.

The success of this year's meeting is already assured by the excellent list of stake entries, and the management is quite confident that all the purse races will fill satisfactorily.

AUDITORS ON TRAINS TO COLLECT FARES.

New Order Went Into Effect Sunday, August 1st On Louisville Division.

Uniformed auditors to collect fares were placed on all passenger trains on the Louisville division of the Illinois Central Sunday. The following Chicago dispatch announces the official order.

"Following the lead of the Northwestern road in installing auditors on its passenger trains, the Illinois Central road has adopted a similar plan, the first trial being made on the Louisville division between Louisville, Ky., and Memphis and hereafter passenger traveling between these two cities will hand their tickets or pay their cash fares to the train auditor instead of the conductor. Like the Northwestern officials the Illinois Central traffic heads contends that auditors have not been installed because they believe their conductors are dishonest, but rather to lighten the burden of the man, who has actual charge of the train and crew and who is largely responsible for the safety of the passengers."

"The Illinois Central has not yet decided whether or not the new plan will be extended over the entire system, but will wait and see how it works on the Louisville division."

"On the Northwestern road the train auditors have no regular runs and conductors never can tell when one of the officials will get aboard his train. They may check up the tickets on leaving the Chicago terminal or get aboard at some distant station."

FISH MILK HERD OF COWS DRY.

Amazed Farmer Watches Funny Denizens Rob Him of Lacteal Fluid.

A most remarkable occurrence was witnessed near Nolin, in Hardin county, last Friday evening, when a number of large fish were seen milkling cows.

Near the station is a large spring branch which empties into Nolin river. Near the mouth of this branch is a favorite place for cows to stand during hot days, where the water is about a foot deep. Friday they were at their accustomed place. It was just after a large rain, and Nolin creek got very muddy and began to rise rapidly.

As is always the case when such rises come, the fish seek clear water, and a great many of them ran into a spring branch. The water literally alive with fish, which did not seem to frighten the cows at all.

Thomas Monin a leading farmer of that section, was out looking for his cows and noticed a great commotion in the water, and as he watched he witnessed a remarkable occurrence, and one never before heard of in this section. As the water rose on the cows he saw a large fish grab the udders and milk them.

He remained some time on the bank watching them, and was fascinated by the novel sight. At last when the cows came out they had been stripped by the fish.

WOODPECKERS DAMAGE POLES.

Holes Take Water and Cause Rot.

Creosote Thought to be Good Remedy For the Bird Evil.

Considerable damage is being done to telephone, telegraph and electric light poles by members of the woodpecker family. These birds originally built their homes in the dead or dying trunks or limbs of trees, but for some reason best known to themselves have come to the conclusion that the peeled poles, offers better conditions for a home.

They have become so ravenous of late that their depredations are attracting considerable attention among those who are compelled to use quantities of wooden poles. Their activities spread over a wide portion of the United States, notably in the South, Southwest and Central West. Cedar poles seem to be the ones most frequently attacked. The birds bore into them at any height from the ground, and the holes which they make are often two or three inches in diameter four or five inches deep. Such an amount of wood drilled from a stick of timber which is carrying a load of wires naturally weakens the strength of the line.

It would, of course, not be a difficult matter to exterminate these birds. However, this is not desirable, as they are among the most beneficial forms of bird life native to this country, because they destroy large numbers of insects which seriously damage forest and food crops. It seems therefore that methods should be undertaken to compel the birds to revert to their former habit of boring rather than to exterminate them.

Frequent inquiries have been made by the Forest Service in this connection, but the only information to date which the Government has been able to obtain is that on a casual inspection of treated and untreated pole lines in Louisiana. In that region it was found that poles which had been impregnated with creosote oil were not attacked by the birds, whereas untreated poles under the same conditions were very severely injured.

Whether or not creosote will prevent such attack is not definitely known, but the Service is investigating this problem, and should this oil prove a preventative, it will fulfill a two-fold purpose: It will protect the poles from decay and destruction from animal life. In southern Indiana, some members of a traction company thought that they could prevent further destruction of their poles by filling the holes in the wood with stones. The birds, however, simply drilled around the stones and made the conditions much worse. This apparently does not seem to be a means of preventing their depredations.

Japan Wants Protection.

It may be of some interest to Americans to know that Japan is about to formulate many new national policies. One of these is a Protective policy. The leading statesmen are said to lean to high Protective Tariffs, accompanied with reciprocal conventions. That nation that would enter Japanese markets will have to make concessions to Japanese goods.

In this respect Japan is simply placing herself in line with the best commercial and industrial taught of the world. There is no nation that is now thinking of abandoning Protection—with deference to our own Tariff reformers be it said—while the only nation that has had a degree of Free-Trade, England, contains a strong party in favor of Protective duties in many articles.

Nor is the abandonment of Protection really the serious conviction of the American people. Attacks on the protective system have lately come from many Americans who have hitherto been identified with Protection.

but these attacks are more political and factional and the manifestations of a spirit of unrest and a pursuit of fads than anything else.

Protection will continue to be the policy of this people, after the men in Congress and many newspapers have ceased to attack the system. Many Americans have worked themselves into such a political frenzy over this subject that they are almost prevented from seeing the matter in a clear and patriotic light. Without Protection this country would soon be in an industrial chaos and any entrance upon a Free-Trade policy would we believe be followed with such disastrous results that it would be immediately reversed.—Cedar Rapids Republican.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.
